Two games are slated for the local gridiron this afternoon. High School and Manual being scheduled to meet at League Park, while the Illinois College of Jacksonville plays the Christian Brothers at C. B. C. camps. Both matches seem of promise.

High and Manual will furnish the first game of the interscholastic series, the contest being the first try-out that Manual has had. Bob Lacon has been coaching the team this season, and he believes that they will make a good showing.

The military game of this season was the match with the East Side alumni at East St. Louis, the contest ending up in a draw after a ruling after Manual had played all around the winning team. On their showing of that occasion they have a good chance to-day.

High School, however, figures as the probable winner, although its margin of advantage is more in team work than in individual players. Its boys have shown good form throughout the season, and have yet to be scored against. As is usual at the school, they are in good trim, having worked constantly since the opening.

Manager Grace has secured League Park for the game, and the kick-off will take place about 2 o'clock.

In the C. B. C. game the Illinois College line-up is as pretty as a picture. Captain Brookhouse is leading the men from Jacksonville, and the visiting squad will have a distinct margin in weight over Doctor Todd's team.

The Christian Brothers' squad has been hard at work, and its practice with the High School team has done it good. Doctor Todd expects to win this afternoon's game, but he will not be giving away his opponents.

Jimmy Rorich, captain of the eleven, has recovered from his injury, and will be back in the game to-day. He will play at full back. The game is set for the college campus at 2:15.

SMITH AT ALTON. Smith Academy goes to Alton to-day to play Shortleaf. Smith has the better chance in this match and will probably win the game. The local eleven has been doing good work at Springfield Park and their heavy line should give them the advantage when joined to their team.

In spite of the fact that Smith is a school team, the Shortleaf eleven will probably have no margin in weight. Sitting up the respective work of the local eleven to-day.

Washington University plays Lemoral College at Galesburg, and also has chances here being put up in a game of football. The local eleven has been doing good work at Springfield Park and their heavy line should give them the advantage when joined to their team.

St. Louis University has no game to-day, but will play the Wartburg team next Wednesday.

Wednesday. Manager Murphy postponed the game to that date upon the faculty deciding that it must be held over.

This leaves but the two games locally. Western and Illinois were to have met in the second game of the inter-scholastic at Alton to-day, but the withdrawal of the former from the league has necessitated the match being called off.

EASTERN COLLEGE GAMES. Eastern colleges are getting down to the harder game of their schedule. Yale is at West Point, West Point at the military team should be able to make the college men extend themselves. Harvard is scheduled to play Princeton at Cambridge, and this also promises to be a rather rough struggle for the crimson team.

Princeton is to oppose Dartmouth and Pennsylvania is to line up against Columbia at New York. Eastern writers have been asserting that Penn is too strong for Columbia this year, and that the New York college is doomed to defeat to-day. As Penn is thought to be about equal to Columbia as there is in the East, this seems likely.

Wisconsin is to meet Knox to-day and Michigan is to play the University of Illinois. The latter contest is of most interest in the series, as the work of the teams in this game will indicate the trend of football all over the country.

BASEBALL MEN HOLD LONG AND ALL-NIGHT SESSION.

National Association of Professional Leagues Tied Up on Constitutional Question.

Since early yesterday morning the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues held a secret session to discuss the probable amendment to their constitution in the main parlors of the Southern Hotel, and from present indications the delegates will remain behind sealed doors for at least six hours longer.

The delegates, who are gathered in the corridors there is a sharp fight within, but what the issue of the day may be is a matter of conjecture. The delegates are all in the city, and the session will be held in the main parlors of the hotel.

The only other rumor of any importance that leaked through the secret was the proposed amalgamation of the Eastern League and American Association, and the delegates from these organizations who were approached on the subject stated there was nothing in the rumor.

The meeting to-day will probably settle the question of the constitutional rights and the drafting of the new constitution. The delegates have pledged themselves to harmony and the outcome of the meeting will probably see an amalgamation of the leagues.

Yesterday afternoon the delegates were the guests of the World's Fair Company, and the delegates have pledged themselves to harmony and the outcome of the meeting will probably see an amalgamation of the leagues.
